

Dollar Trends

Dollar trends have been a unique feature of our products for over 15 years. These approximate dollar values show the amount of money wagered to date on each runner at each update. Price trends are seen by some punters as somewhat one dimensional as they take no account of liquidity resulting in what look like huge price changes which can be simply the normal ebb and flow of money into small pools. The Dollar Trends page cuts right through this by showing the approximate dollar amounts that have been bet on each runner along the way showing the punters support for a runner as a clear total money amount.
